

70 Series Cruiser Tow Point

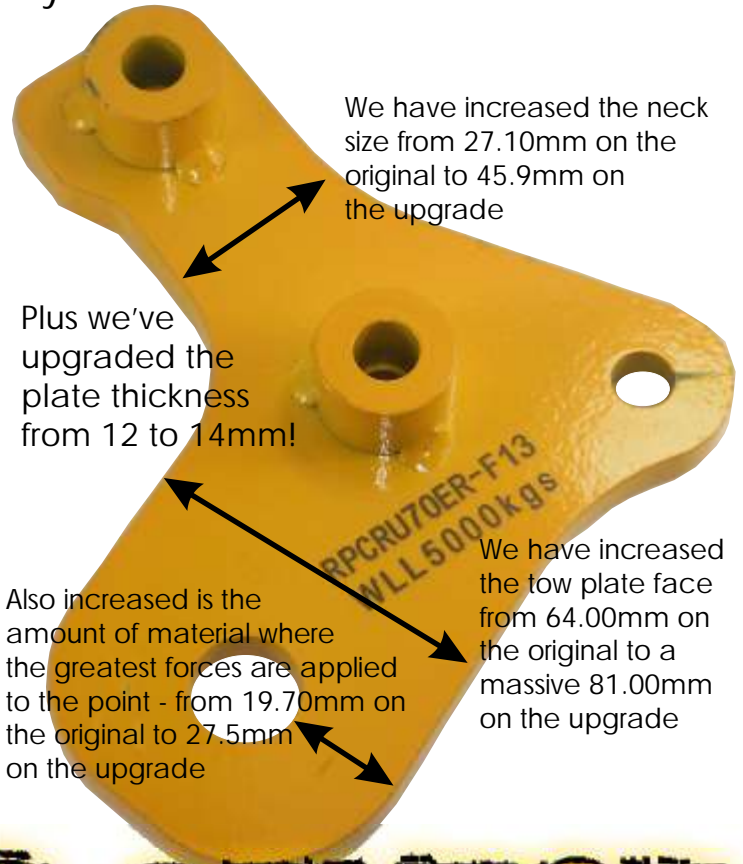

Roadsafe have upgraded the size and length of the replacement Tow Point to suit to the 70 Series Cruisers. This upgrade has been undertaken to allow for the point to protrude further through the bash plate, to allow easier shackle attachment for recovery situations.

Points now protrude through Bash Plate for easier shackle attachment

Overall 16% increase in strength demonstrated during destruction testing

We have increased the neck size from 27.10mm on the original to 45.9mm on the upgrade

Plus we've upgraded the plate thickness from 12 to 14mm!

Also increased is the amount of material where the greatest forces are applied to the point - from 19.70mm on the original to 27.5mm on the upgrade

We have increased the tow plate face from 64.00mm on the original to a massive 81.00mm on the upgrade
