It's just cooler because it's red! Now available are 'red' 50mm recovery hitch in aluminum. All Roadsafe 4WD tow points & hitch designs are destruction tested during development to ensure they are rated at a level they can withstand. The new RTH002 (red hitch) destruction tested was halted at 16 tonne due to test equipment limitations, with no signs of deformation with the hitch at this force.

We ran with red to start with, but if you have another colour suggestion feel free to let us know & we will look at it! If we get a large demand for one particular colour we'll make that next!
